Dear Sr. Castro,

Since I haven't heard from you in answer to my letter of February 23, I am writing you again, knowing that letters can go astray. As I had already written you, your name was given to me by Maria Luisa Bombal. I am still interested in seeing your writings, and would like you to send me those of your works which you think would be most appropriate for translation and publication in this country.

With kind regards, and hoping to hear from you,

Yours sincerely
