Easter Greetings

from

ALICE STONE BLACKWELL

However wild the weather,
However dark the skies,
Glad Easter brings fresh courage;
Its music says "Arise!
A mighty dawn is coming;
The world shall yet be bright.
Cast doubt and fear behind you,
And help to spread the light.
The flowers that winter prisoned
Now rise and bloom anew;
The tulips silver trumpets Ring out. Be brave, Be true!"

— A. S. B.

The world is slowly learning that because two men think differently neither need be wicked.

— Sir Wilfred Grenfell.

To be able to see the large things large and the small things small is wisdom. To treat the large things as large and the small things as small is righteousness.

The true greatness of Nations is in those qualities which constitute the greatness of the individual.

— Charles Sumner.

"It's just the view from where you sit
That makes you fear defeat;
You can view life from many aisles —
Why don't you change your seat?"

Christmas & New Year Greetings

from

ALICE STONE BLACKWELL

The smoke of battle hides the stars,
Yet still they shine on high.
Though battle thunder drowns the chimes,
Their message cannot lie.
The Christmas candles shed their beams
With fearless lustre clear;
The chimes ring out; "We usher in A great and brave New Year!
Rise, do your part, be strong of heart;
Bring peace on earth more near!"

— A. S. B.

Love your neighbor as yourself, and your country more than yourself.

— Thomas Jefferson.

I have shared my joys with you,
I have shared the pain
And the sorrow too;
But the most wonderful part is,
I can share my thoughts with you
Till the ocean between us
Counts no more than a drop of dew.

— Théodore Tugouet.

We do not know how cheap the seeds of happiness are, or we would scatter them oftener.

— James Russell Lowell.

This time, like all times, is a very good one if we but know what to do with it.

— Ralph Waldo Emerson.
