DEPARTMENT OF STATE
WASHINGTON

My dear Miss Gabriela Mistral:

I am writing to extend to you a most cordial welcome upon your arrival in Washington, D.C. It is a pleasure indeed to have you with us, and you should feel free to call upon this office for any possible assistance during your stay here.

When the Department learned of your forthcoming trip to the United States, an invitation was extended to you, through the American Embassy in Santiago, Chile, to spend a period of three months in this country at the invitation of the Department. This invitation did not reach you, as you had already left for Europe to receive the Nobel Prize in recognition of your literary work. The Department's invitation was again extended to you through the American Embassy in Paris, and again it apparently did not reach you.

Upon your arrival in Washington, the Department again takes pleasure in extending this invitation to you. The Department will be pleased to provide a per diem of $10 and necessary railroad travel within the United States for such a visit of cultural centers in this country as you may desire to make, to extend over a period not to exceed three months, at the time you wish to choose. Should you find it possible to accept this Department grant, I should be pleased to hear from you at your earliest convenience. This office will be at your disposal in making the necessary travel arrangements.

Sincerely yours,

Herschel Brickell
Acting Chief
Division of International
Exchange of Persons

Miss Gabriela Mistral,
In care of the Chilean Embassy,
