To the Hon. Gabriela Mistral,

With considerable pleasure we learn that you will be back in Los Angeles. We would like to offer congratulations on the winning of the Nobel Prize, the highest distinction given poets.

The many poets of California feel honored to have you in Los Angeles. We hold the annual Poetry Conference of California on July thirteenth here in Los Angeles. The Conference will be under the auspices of The California Federation Of Chaparral Poets, a non-commercial organization. There will be morning, an afternoon, and an evening program. A banquet will be held at six thirty, informal. The poets will feel honored if you would be our guest at the banquet and also if you could attend any of the programs. The poets of California are anxious to pay you some honor.

We have contacted Mr Pradenas and hope this invitation may reach you through him. We have enclosed a program of a previous Conference so you may know what are Conferences are. We are to the Hon. Alfred Noyes with us this Conference.

If it is convenient my wife and I would appreciate calling on you and telling you about the Conference.

Sincerely,

Laban Thomas Johnston
