Dear Senora Mistral:

We have been interested for some time in the possibility of publishing a collected volume of your work for the general North American public. However, having heard that Alfred Knopf, Inc. had some such understanding with you we naturally made no further move in your direction. Lately, however, we have heard that matters have not worked out with the Knopf office. Therefore, we feel free to tell you of our interest.

Random House are the publishers of the Modern Library, and of such outstanding authors as Sinclair Lewis, Vincent Sheean, Christopher Isherwood, W. E. Auden, Robinson Jeffers, Marcel Proust, Andre Malraux, Isak Dinesen, etc. We feel that you would be in good company on our list and that we are amply equipped to handle your work with the dignity and energy it so richly deserves.

We understand that you are now in New York and we sincerely hope that we may have the honor of seeing you for discussion of this interesting project.

Yours very sincerely,

HEM/d
