Gentlemen:

Miss Doris Dana has now completed the editing of the unpublished material of Gabriela (Mistral)'s poetry. There is a great deal more than was originally thought; the final manuscript runs to about 50% of all of the material which you are publishing as POESIAS COMPLETAS. In consideration of this fact, Miss Dana does not wish to have the new material simply added to your existing publication but feels that a separate volume would have a better chance to get both critical attention and wider sales.

We have a number of inquiries for the Spanish language rights to the posthumous volume of Mistral poetry, but of course we want you to have first option to consider the material and make an offer for it. We understand, of course, that you will not be able to make a final decision until you have had a chance to consider the manuscript, but I would appreciate knowing in the meantime what you think of the chances of having a separate volume of posthumous poetry published outside of your BIBLIOTECA DE PREMIAS NOBEL.

Sincerely,

Joan Daves/RB
