Dear Doris:

It has indeed been some time since I heard from you. A couple of months ago Jack Goellner reported to me that the negotiations with your agent had apparently been successfully concluded, and I more or less assumed that the manuscript would follow shortly thereafter. *

Our Ford Foundation grant has officially expired, but as is usual in these cases, the Foundation has given us a little extension of time to wrap up the final affairs. I shall not only have to report to them in the near future on what programs we carried out, but also what status the various enterprises are now in. It is imperative that as soon as possible you get some manuscript to the Johns Hopkins Press, so that I can obligate sufficient funds to see that it is published, and to cover the cost of the illustrations.

It now looks as though I shall be going to Spain around February 13, and I would like to get some of these matters started through the administrative channels before I leave, so that I hope that you will be able to help me out on this matter. As I believe I have reported to you earlier, Pancho Aguilera has agreed to do the introductory matter, and I cannot think of anyone more qualified. It will be quite necessary for him to have a proposed table of contents, even though you have not completed all translations, as he will be writing his material from the Spanish texts, not from the translations.

With continuing warmest regards from us all, I remain

Cordially,

Howard
