

Hotel Crillon
SANTIAGO-CHILE

20 November 1938.

Sr. Joaquin Edwards Bello,
La Nacion,
Santiago, Chile.

My dear Sr. Edwards Bello:-

Just a line of appreciation upon your article appearing in this mornings Nacion, which I enjoyed, and for that enjoyment herewith my thanks.

A playwright knows by the reaction of the audience the effect of his work. The writer never knows how the public reacted when the article appears in a newspaper, unless they will express themselves, therefore this little note.

Some years ago I enjoyed, when living here your articles and your books, most of which I have in Pasadena, California in my library. At that time I met you, time no doubt has erased that in your memory, which in mine has been kept alive through your books.

One of your doctors has confined me at present to my rooms here in the hotel, so I cannot personally bring you my appreciations, but I would be very delighted to have you come and take tea with me on Monday, the 21st. your visit would be an interesting interlude that I would enjoy, and I trust that you will be able to do so.

Sincerely,

Duke N. Banks
Duke N. Banks.

I recall that it will be easier for you to read my english, than my poorly written spanish, which is the despair of my latin wife and Chilean son.
