Dear Doris:

I am enclosing photostat of a letter just received from Mr. Ross of Editors Opera Mundi; it was accompanied by photostats of a good deal of previous correspondence which I don't need in my files and which I am enclosing for your information and disposition.

What is important, I guess, is the table of contents of the proposed selections which I am sending to you in photostat copy. My suggestion would be to o.k. this unless some awful errors are in it; for this is the material, I presume, which was printed in the first edition by Editors Delta and which probably is already in print in the new edition by Opera Mundi.

You will remember that I mentioned to you that US $ 2,000.- would be a fair fee to cover the total editions printed up to 15,000 copies. This is precisely what Opera Mundi are offering now and my suggestion is to accept it quickly, get the contract signed and thus establish a precedent for future printings, if any.

Let me know if you agree so that we can get the contracts set up and signed by you before passing them on to Mr. Ross.

Love,

Joan Daves/cs
