Dear Mrs. Mousseau:

I wrote to you some time ago (before I left New York), and not having received any answer as yet, I am beginning to wonder if the letter reached you. At any rate I am enclosing a copy of the letter, so that you can see how things stood at that time.

I am most anxious to know if you heard from Whit Burnett. I have heard nothing -- but then I have not yet received the mail forwarded to me from New York City.

Please let me hear from you, as I am especially interested in knowing if you would be willing to do translations of some poems of Gabriela's for magazines. I can be reached at the Hotel Mexico, Jalapa, Veracruz, Mex. until around the 23rd of March. On the 26th of March we are leaving for Italy. (The boat leaves from Veracruz.) Later I will let you know where I can be reached in Europe.

I hope my other letter did not go astray -- but am sending the copy on in case.

Hoping to hear from you soon.

Most sincerely,

Doris Dana
