Dear Miss Dana:

Thank you so much for your letter and for your trouble in sending me the carbon along with it. The whole thing makes me sick. The experience has been an interesting and valuable one to me, personally. I have never done anything in which I have taken greater pride and I am fully immersed in interesting work that has grown directly out of Atlas. But the waste and the loss, especially to Miss Worley, is unforgiveable. I'll say only that the place to address your complaint is the Aspen Institute which installed Muir, then fired him, then sold him its interest in the magazine. Hence the mass exodus.

Sincerely,

Quincy Howe
