Mr. Frank Lane
Chula Vista, California
Av. Segundo 701

Dear Mr. Lane:

I am writing to you in answer to your letter of August 11th to Miss Gabriela Mistral. While I was in New York she forwarded to me one of your letters. I am not sure whether I answered that letter, and if I did not, please forgive me.

The reason that I am a little confused on this subject is because, upon my return to Mexico, a suitcase was stolen from me which contained a great deal of correspondence, and I am afraid that your correspondence was among the papers.

You ask for permission to translate some of her work. I am afraid that it is not quite clear in what sense you ask for this permission. If you refer to publication, I regret that I cannot give you any general authorization since her poetry has already been turned over to one of the most competent and sensitive translators of Spanish-American literature.

However, if you have any special work in mind that you can send to me, I will most certainly be glad to consider it. Your translation of "Reco" seemed to me a very fine and delicate piece of work.

Miss Mistral especially wishes me to thank you for your interest and attention that you give to her work.

Most sincerely yours,

Doris Dana
