Dear Doris:

Thanks very much indeed for your good letter of September 7, 1970. To relieve your mind immediately, we did receive the copy of your translations, and are adding to the group the ones you just sent. By the way, in your table of contents, you have given Mr. Aguilera an unearned doctorate!

We were indeed pleased to think that you would approve of our issuing a recording. We are trying to work out some sort of arrangement with the Johns Hopkins Press to send the recording along with review copies of the book. It certainly will be wonderful that people hear as well as read the poems.

I am enclosing a copy of the Introduction which Pancho has written. If you have any suggestions for changes in it, would you write him directly? He has agonized over this piece, which I think conveys a great deal of information in relatively brief compass.

With continuing good regards, I remain

Cordially,

Howard
