

July 16, 1964

Dear Senor Badosa,

Miss Dana and I were glad to learn from your letter of July 10 that the idea of publishing an anthology of the religious poetry of Gabriel ~~la~~ Mistral appeals to you. The suggested advance of 15,000 Ptas. would most probably be acceptable, although we would want to relate it to the proposed sales price of such a volume. We would also hope to have an ascending scale of royalties depending on numbers of copies sold.

I realize, of course, that we cannot settle these specific points until you have seen the material and will be able to judge just how long a volume there will be.

Miss Dana is now going to do some preliminary editorial work and will in time write to you regarding the suggested contents of the projected volume. We appreciate that you will inform Mr. Silva of the situation, and I trust that your information will deter him from any further unauthorized efforts in the matter of Mistral publication.

Sincerely,

Joan Daves/rn
