Re: Gabriela Mistral

January 18, 1965

Gentlemen:

I am writing you as the agent representing, on behalf of Miss Doris Dana, the publication rights to the Gabriela Mistral estate. It has come to our attention that you have had in print since 1961 a volume of Mistral poetry, published within your series of Nobel literature prize winners.

We have no record of an agreement for any Mistral publication rights with you, nor of ever having received any royalty accountings or payments. I had written to Aguilar in this connection and hear from them that they, neither, had given you permission for the publication. Aguilar further tell me that on February 8, 1960 you had approached them regarding this matter and that they had, with their answer of February 15, 1960, referred you to Marie Rodell and Joan Daves, Inc., as the authorized representatives in this matter.

Meantime I am handling the representation on my own and have, as you will see from the letterhead, a new address. I shall look forward to hearing from you and getting detailed information regarding your sales of the volume since publication.

Sincerely,

Joan Daves, Inc
