My dear Madame:

The time is indeed becoming short to our Academic Session on December 10 and 11. We trust that you have been able to complete your plans for your coming to Washington to receive our Award, and we assure you that here there is reigning the greatest expectancy of joy and pleasure at the opportunity of having you in our midst.

I do not know if you have made any plans to stay with friends while you are here. Let me assure you that whatever plans you work out for yourself will be completely satisfactory to us. If you have made no arrangements, do you want us to go ahead and take care of these details? And if you do not prefer to stay with some personal friends, would you prefer to stay in a private home or in a hotel? As I have told you, we want to make your stay here as pleasant and as easy for you as possible, and merely await an expression of your desire in these matters. In regard to your travel here, we, of course, stand prepared to meet all expenses. It is up to you to choose the method you prefer; and upon hearing from you, we shall be happy to send you a check covering the expenses.

With expressions of profound respect and regard, I am,
dear Madame,

Yours devotedly in Xto,

Alexander Xico, Jr.
