My dear Madame:

You have received, I trust, my telegram, informing you of the desire of many institutions and friends here in Washington to honor you on the occasion of your visit. Please do let us know as soon as possible when we may expect to receive you, and what provisions you want us to make for your hospitality.

You will find enclosed our check for $300.00, which will, I believe, cover your expenses to and from Washington. We wish that we could make it more than this, but when you come we shall be happy to meet any additional expenses you may have. By buying your ticket in Mexico, we understand, you save a travel tax that would be collectable in the United States. That, plus the fact that we do not know just how or when you plan to travel, has seemed to make it advisable to send you a check rather than to try to complete arrangements from this end. I am sorry to give you this extra trouble, but I trust that you will understand our position.

Anticipating the great pleasure of having you with us for December 10 and 11, I am, my dear Madame,

Yours devotedly in Xto,

Alexander Hyslop, Jr.
