Dear Joan:

The reasons for my silence are long and complicated. There is no point in going into them in detail. The following information you should know:

1. The will was probated and I am officially Executrix and Literary Manager.
2. I negotiated a Rockefeller grant for the editing of Gabriela's unpublished works by a Chilean critic. This work is now in process and is coming along nicely.
3. I am enclosing various requests re publication. When in Spanish, I have sent you the translation; you can cope with the French and Italian better than I can. Will you take care of these letters?

There are many things I now would like to talk to you about in terms of plans for future publications. Let me know when you have a little time. Last week I gave up my job and am now available.

Regarding your question re French publications - the only two books I have, or have seen, published in France are by Gallimard "Poemes" and by Stock "Poemes Choisis" (with preface of Paul Valery). I do not know about the Nagel edition. There are NO contracts for any of these in Gabriela's papers.

See you soon.
