Dearest Doris,

To-day it is "Valentine" and you might think childish of me to write, but I want you to know how much I think of you, every hour of the day. You are for me what Gabriela loved on this earth, and it was through you that I met her and saw her every week since the end of 1955. You know how much I loved her and love her still for she is alive in us.

When I thought of Gabriela I thought of you together with her, and now when I think of you I still believe that she is with you to such a point that when I talk to you on
