Dear Doris:

(give you information)
I just noticed in the Revere OPERATING INSTRUCTIONS that they do sell a "Microphone Extension Cord Assembly (15 ^{feet} in length) for $7.50 (72A 1256) Harry has promised to make me a 25 foot one for $4.50 which I will send on to you, ^{today} or he will send it, I will pay and put it on the bill (which you will not don't get jumpily like x). With this you can set the mike behind x (of course this is considered by no one as ideal place, but under the circumstances) and you will get anything she says; the ^{Revere} mike doesn't have the quality of the other but for purposes of dictation it will suffice. ^{It will also save you carrying the machine around.} As soon as I have time I will delve into the other mike problem; things are a little better here now because my thesis problem could not just been re-appointed since it appeared that out of 7 people in her department (Romance Languages) working on their thesis at other universities, she was the only one who was consulting a director, and that was sufficient for her re-appointment. (Now they are laying off in Universities!
Anyway she now has a year to re-write the dissertation--which makes less work for mother Bates.

On second thought, since the other mike will take a little time
I might as well add up - in my April 23 letter the itemized (tape, spools, splicing tape, foot pedal, ^{and you receive this Harry sent it through mail} came to $21.17.

Mike stand - 2.76
4.73 - mike extension cord (will send today)
87.49
21.17 - previous balance
$28.65 includes everything to date
