Dear Mrs. Donner:

I am writing at the suggestion of Sra. Jimenez of the Chilean Consulate here.

She informed me you were secretary to the late Gabriela Mistral, the distinguished Chilean poet, who was also,
I understand, an exemplary and devoted Catholic.

I am gathering material on ^{notable} ~~exemplary~~ laymen of the past who have not only achieved fame in their particular vocations, but showed real piety and devotion to the cause of the Faith.

Sra. Jimenez is sending me an outline of Miss Mistral's career.

I was hoping that you could supplement this by telling me something of her life as a Catholic: her exercises of piety, her services to the Church, her influence on the Catholic life around her, etc.

We read much today about the lay apostolate. I want to tell of the notable men and women who have wholeheartedly lived it.

Thanking you in ~~anticipation~~ for any help you may be able to give me,

I am, very sincerely,

Thomas F. Doyle
