Dear Sr. Claro:

Please forgive the long delay in answering your letter of May 7th, 1958. I have just returned from a rather lengthy trip to Europe, and unfortunately your letter had not been forwarded to me. I have had the draft of the Power of Attorney notarized, executed by the County Clerk, and legalized by the Chilean Consulate General in New York City. I am enclosing the document and a copy herewith. I have made up other copies if you should need them.

Regarding your question about Gabriela's assets or debts in Chile -- she had no debt nor did she have any other assets pertaining to the Estate that I am aware of. She was last paid a salary by the Chilean Government in December, 1956. If you should want the exact date of the issue of this check, I can obtain it when I go to Roslyn. I bring this up only because it is possible that the Chilean Government owes her the salary accrued up to the time of her death. Also, as I understand it, money was automatically put in some kind of "social security" fund in her name in Chile. I do not know the name of this department, but would assume it was a federal department. Perhaps this money accumulated in her name would be due the Estate. I know nothing about this, and am only pointing out these two things as something that might be an "asset".

I shall not be leaving New York City again, and can always be reached at the following address: 204 East 20th Street, New York 3, New York. Also, for your information, I would like to say that another lawyer is now representing Gabriela's Estate here in New York City. He is --
