Dear Ms. Dana:

It was a pleasure to speak with you this morning. Hopefully, the sixteen letters of which I enclose copies for you will be of interest and use in your work. These copies are the best, given the quality and the condition of the letters, that we can provide. I have even re-copied several of them. With letter number 1, the first copy was the most legible while the second one is more complete on the margins; therefore, I send you both of them.

You will note from our four pages of abstracts the chronology upon which we decided; this could be altered if you think that we have erred extensively.

Mrs. Pérez and I look forward to receiving the copies of your material.

Very truly yours,

Donald C. Henderson
