

DOCTORAL INTERNSHIP PROGRAM FOR WOMEN & MINORITY GROUPS

Journal of Management Education
37(4) 401-412
© The Author(s) 2013

10.1177/1056492613505000

Abstract This article describes a doctoral internship program for women and minority groups. The program was developed to provide a structured and supportive environment for doctoral students who are women and/or members of minority groups. The program includes a variety of activities, such as mentorship, networking, and professional development. The program is designed to help doctoral students develop the skills and knowledge needed to succeed in their field of study and to advance their careers. The program is open to all doctoral students who are women and/or members of minority groups and who are interested in pursuing a career in management education.

Keywords doctoral internship program, women, minority groups, management education, professional development, mentorship, networking

Management education is a field that is rapidly growing in importance and influence. As the world becomes more global and interconnected, the need for management education is increasing. Management education is essential for the success of any organization, and it is a field that offers a wide range of opportunities for students. This article describes a doctoral internship program for women and minority groups, which is designed to provide a structured and supportive environment for doctoral students who are women and/or members of minority groups.

The program is designed to help doctoral students develop the skills and knowledge needed to succeed in their field of study and to advance their careers. The program includes a variety of activities, such as mentorship, networking, and professional development. The program is open to all doctoral students who are women and/or members of minority groups and who are interested in pursuing a career in management education. The program is designed to provide a structured and supportive environment for doctoral students who are women and/or members of minority groups. The program includes a variety of activities, such as mentorship, networking, and professional development. The program is open to all doctoral students who are women and/or members of minority groups and who are interested in pursuing a career in management education.

Dicurso entrega premio José Nuez a Diamela Eltit [artículo] José Luis Samaniego.

Libros y documentos

AUTORÍA

Samaniego, José Luis

FECHA DE PUBLICACIÓN

1996

FORMATO

Artículo

DATOS DE PUBLICACIÓN

Dicurso entrega premio José Nuez a Diamela Eltit [artículo] José Luis Samaniego.

FUENTE DE INFORMACIÓN

Biblioteca Nacional Digital

INSTITUCIÓN

Biblioteca Nacional

UBICACIÓN

Avenida Libertador Bernardo O'Higgins 651, Santiago, Región Metropolitana, Chile

Mapa