Ma Chere Gabriella Mistral:

It was so nice meeting you the other Sunday --- brief as it was. I do thank you for your hospitality.

Incidentally, I was browsing around in the May Co book dept. recently, and came across a beautiful edition of Beaudelaire - half French, half English, with translation by Edna St Milley.

The next time we visit, I would like to tell you about my idea of a FOLK ARTS magazine which I intend publishing -- including news and stories about folk dancing, folk music, and anything pertaining to folk culture, the world over.

I want to include a page in Spanish -- directed to Latin American readers-- and another in French. Maybe if you have time, you might care to write ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ a few paragraphs about the folk culture of your own picturesque Chile, whose wines I very much admire. Or maybe you might care to give me some suggestions about this proposed magazine.

Incidentally, my group is going to hold a FOLK ARTS program in Hollywood, Friday, Nov October 29 -- dedicated to La Belle France. Of course, you would be invited as my guest, if you can come, along with any of your friends.

It will be at the Ruth St Denis Foundation. Miss St Denis is doing some wonderful work with programs on Monday nites at her studio -- when she and her group dances to the reading of poetry as well as music. You would enjoy this I know.

Thanks again for your gracious hospitality. I do hope to see you soon.

If you have time to write me, please do so in French or Spanish, which I read fluently.

With best wishes,

Maya's glass
cordially,
