Dear Miss Daves:

Reference is made to your letters of January 3 and 5.

We are sorry for the decision of Miss Dana, but do understand her reasons and take due note that we shall have to wait until our third edition of the POESIAS COMPLETAS by Gabriela Mistral comes out to include in it the unpublished poems.

Concerning the foreword written by Miss Esther de Caceres, we confirm you we are ready to include it; we beg only to point out that, as the typesetting of the volume is already almost finished, as you know, we should like you to send us this material as soon as possible, in order not to interrupt the production process, which would be rather prejudicial to us.

We are in correspondence with Miss Bates, who sends us regularly all the corrections which we have agreed in including in our present edition. To a definite request of hers about the introductory notes to our edition, whose preparation, as she tells us, is not yet started, we have answered that we shall come to a decision about them as soon as we receive this material. We shall then reply to the three possibilities she proposes to us, which are to publish them:

- 1.- Independently of the texts.
- 2.- In a subsequent edition of our Library of Nobel Prize Winners
- 3.- In a special edition, with the texts.

As you may see, she does not speak of their inclusion in our present edition.

In the hope that with all this we shall have cleared up your doubts, we remain,

Sincerely yours,
AGUILAR S. A. DE EDICIONES

Very cordially
V. V. V.
