Dear Miss Dana:

You picked the right day to come to Baltimore. It snowed last night, and now we're having a cold, grizzly rain!

Enclosed is a summary of the promotion plans we talked about while you were here. I'm also sending a copy to Joan Daves, and, as we agreed, she will get copies of all our correspondence relating to promotion of the book.

In the meantime I wanted you to know we've written to W.S. Merwin, Kay Swenson, and Marianne Moore regarding commendations. I checked with Miss Daves' office about getting mail to England, but they have no way of doing it at the moment either. The blockade seems complete, so I'm beginning to be afraid we'll have to content ourselves with contacting Rumer Godden after the strike is over. Or would you rather we approached someone else?

Best wishes,

Sincerely,

Lisa Johns
