Dear Doris:

As I flew through N.Y. on my way back I wasn't able to get you by phone. I'm terrifically busy because of a multitude of extra things that I have to do (the Niña de Roma who has no time to do ordinary things!)

Yesterday I received the enclosed letter from Gilda. I have answered it. Will you return it to me when you have finished with it? I told Gilda I had spoken to you on the phone and probably the reason that you don't answer about the coat is because you are too busy working to find someone to return it. . . (an ambiguous sentence, let's try again. . .) because you are so busy working you have no time to find somebody to return it.

The movie business is more than I can cope with! Caramba! I've just spent hours centering titles.

I do hope the pack of wolves are not barking so loud these days.

Mucho love, and best regards to Pisifó and el Negrito.

La muy atribulada,
M. de R.
