Dear Miss Dana,

Thank you for your letter of December 24th and it was very nice hearing from you again and I hope you are spending a pleasant time in Grenada which must be very beautiful.

Here it is like spring and I am able to pick up some roses every day in the garden specially "Peace" and "Queen Elizabeth" which look fragile almost like paper roses and last a long time.

It is most kind of you to have sent us on December 16th two more packets of Gabriella Mistral books, they have not yet had time to arrive and I will of course write again when they turn up, and I confirm that the first two packets arrived safely.

It is also very kind of you to destine to our Library the set of contemporary Spanish novels which were given you by the Rector of Veracruz University.

They will be a very wellcome addition to our modest new Spanish section which we are anxious to enlarge, and they will be doubly treasured because of the connection with another town where Gabriella lived.

It is fitting that she should be remembered here and our meeting in the Library was providencial as her work and person are not sufficiently known here.

It will give me great pleasure, with your help and advice, to arrange a suitable commemoration, and your generous gift of a sculptured life size head of Gabriella, photos, a woodcut, and a plaque will make it a worthy "Homenaje" to Gabriella!

With warmest thanks and all best wishes.
