

ELLEN DUKLAND A LIFE IN ACTION: THE NEW NARRATIVE

THE FUTURE BOOKS SHOP

Lorraine Hansson, an 80-year-old Swedish woman, is the author of A Life in Action: The New Narrative. This book, published by the University of Minnesota Press, is a collection of essays that explore the relationship between the individual and the social. Hansson argues that the individual is not a passive recipient of social forces, but an active participant in the creation of social reality. She discusses the role of the individual in the formation of the social and the role of the social in the formation of the individual.

Hansson's argument is based on a number of key concepts. First, she argues that the individual is not a passive recipient of social forces, but an active participant in the creation of social reality. She discusses the role of the individual in the formation of the social and the role of the social in the formation of the individual.

Hansson's argument is based on a number of key concepts. First, she argues that the individual is not a passive recipient of social forces, but an active participant in the creation of social reality. She discusses the role of the individual in the formation of the social and the role of the social in the formation of the individual.

Hansson's argument is based on a number of key concepts. First, she argues that the individual is not a passive recipient of social forces, but an active participant in the creation of social reality. She discusses the role of the individual in the formation of the social and the role of the social in the formation of the individual.

Hansson's argument is based on a number of key concepts. First, she argues that the individual is not a passive recipient of social forces, but an active participant in the creation of social reality. She discusses the role of the individual in the formation of the social and the role of the social in the formation of the individual.

Second, she argues that the individual is not a passive recipient of social forces, but an active participant in the creation of social reality. She discusses the role of the individual in the formation of the social and the role of the social in the formation of the individual.

Third, she argues that the individual is not a passive recipient of social forces, but an active participant in the creation of social reality. She discusses the role of the individual in the formation of the social and the role of the social in the formation of the individual.

Fourth, she argues that the individual is not a passive recipient of social forces, but an active participant in the creation of social reality. She discusses the role of the individual in the formation of the social and the role of the social in the formation of the individual.

Fifth, she argues that the individual is not a passive recipient of social forces, but an active participant in the creation of social reality. She discusses the role of the individual in the formation of the social and the role of the social in the formation of the individual.

Sixth, she argues that the individual is not a passive recipient of social forces, but an active participant in the creation of social reality. She discusses the role of the individual in the formation of the social and the role of the social in the formation of the individual.

Luis Durand a cien años de su nacimiento [artículo] Fernando Sánchez Durán.

Libros y documentos

AUTORÍA

Sánchez Durán, Fernando

FECHA DE PUBLICACIÓN

1995

FORMATO

Artículo

DATOS DE PUBLICACIÓN

Luis Durand a cien años de su nacimiento [artículo] Fernando Sánchez Durán. retr.

FUENTE DE INFORMACIÓN

Biblioteca Nacional Digital

INSTITUCIÓN

Biblioteca Nacional

UBICACIÓN

Avenida Libertador Bernardo O'Higgins 651, Santiago, Región Metropolitana, Chile